Predictive Services:	Cooling & Moistening Trend This Weekend... <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Beautiful fall week. Precipitation coming into the area on Saturday and Sunday. • Temps will be above seasonal normal, nights will be in the mid to low 30s. Should have good RH recover for today and tomorrow. RHs in the teens to low 20s during the day. • Potential for record breaking high temps for Idaho continues for today and tomorrow. • Saturday/Sunday; anticipating precipitation with the storms coming into the area. Some winds coming in ahead of the system. 15-20 mph winds. Temp afterward will be more along the line of "Seasonal Normal". • Models are staying consistent.
GBCC Update:
1 Fire: Walker IC: Tracy Dunford	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • 5166 acres / 50% contained / 394 people on the incident /1.92M • South; looking good. Crews are patrolling and moving up both the West and East flanks. Mopping in 100 ft or more. IR did pick up some heat in the area and crews will be concentrating on that today. • East; Where it ties in to the 311 road; burned out that side yesterday. Had a few spots across the line, but crews picked it up and today will continue to mop up and secure. This burn out was a cap to secure the Grimes creek area along the East side and was well executed. • North; toward the West; linked the logging roads together and have prepped the area to tie into Grimes creek for possible burn out if needed. • West / North West; Crews gong direct where possible. Mopping up and securing line 100 ft. • East / Northeast; Have been doing direct where possible. Have a contingency plan to do a PSD operation on the East side of Grimes
